Martial Arts Therapy offers free classes to kids with cancer and disabilities.

Then we party with music, song, pizza and friends.

We teach students pain/fear/anxiety management, physical rehabilitation and deep relaxation skills while offering emotional & spiritual support as the patient actively participates in their healing process through kinetic energy training and guidance imagery. An eclectic approach is used combining several forms of martial arts, medicine and psycho-physical peer therapy.

Where: Solomon Schechter Day School 7616 Parsons Blvd, Flushing, NY 11366

When: Bi-Weekly-Sundays 11am – 1pm Starting Nov. 17th RSVP

Contact: Rabbi Sensei Gary Moskowitz Founder/Director at 917-916-4681

We train medical Staff, OTs, PTs, Speech, Special education & Martial Arts teachers/student interns in this modality.

We are the first school in the country to help sick and disabled kids using our martial arts therapeutic approach with psycho-physical peer therapy. Our goal is to publicize our free programs so more families and medical personnel can take advantage of it and more medical research can be encourage in this area. We are a not for profit 510c3 tax exempt organization.
